

Revita®, the most efficient hair growth stimulating shampoo available in the market especially designed to act on hair loss from prevention to later phases.

Revita® is the only shampoo product that combines specific anti-DHT action with antioxidant and antiinflammatory effects. Revita® associates a hair growth stimulating effect with powerful moisturizing properties, and provides basic amino acid supply offering significant tensile benefits to hair shaft. This complete mechanism of action of Revita® offers unique and powerful results on scalp vitality and hair growth stimulation. Revita® increases the diameter of the hair strands while gently cleansing the scalp, leaving the hair soft with a pleasant smell. Revita® acts since the beginning, before the problem appears, until later phases of hair loss. Revita® acts since the beginning, before the problem appears, until later phases of hair loss.

Revita® starts acting on your scalp and hair follicles since the first day of use.

Hidden just beneath your hair is a sensitive area of skin that, because of its location, may easily be overlooked or taken for granted. The skin of the scalp is thick and hair bearing and contains numerous sebaceous glands. The scalp is populated by thousands of individual hairs which sit in follicles under the skin.

The condition of your scalp is affected by many factors including genetic predisposition, follicular response to DHT, collagen rigidity, stress, and hormonal imbalances. Just as your facial complexion is affected by changes within your body, so is your scalp. With the onset of hair loss, the affected hairs become shorter, finer and lighter in color. Eventually, some hairs become too light and fine to be seen.

The scalp can be damaged and the follicles normal physiology compromised such that the hair will fall out leading to thinning or bald patches. In today's marketplace, there are simply no options for shampoo that can effectively address the unique needs of individuals suffering from hair loss. In fact, the vast majority of over the counter shampoos contain cheap detergents and alkaline compounds that can further exacerbate a hair loss condition and other scalp disorders. Revita® is a breakthrough shampoo that was designed with high-concentrations of precious materials as a cost-no-object approach to creating a flagship product. The synergistic application of technologies in Revita® results in quality and performance that is simply without equal.

Revita® addresses all the underlying factors needed to maintain the scalp in its most optimal state. Whether you are suffering from hair loss or want to prevent hair loss, one easy way to keep your scalp healthy is through regular shampooing with Revita®.

The time you will need to note the first results will depend on the severity and duration of your hair loss. No matter how long or how intense your hair loss is, using Revita® on a daily basis will improve the vitality of your scalp, maintaining the quality of your hair and stimulating new hair growth.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS:

How should I use Revita?

After applying Revita with a gentle massage, you should leave it on the scalp from 5 to 10 minutes before rinsing. Revita should be used on a daily basis.

Is Revita safe?

Revita contains herbal extracts and vitamins which are known for their safety especially in topical use. The other active ingredients have been tested in clinical studies and have been shown safe.

Can I use hair sprays, mousses, gels, etc.?

Hair spray, gel, and other styling aids are not recommended since they tend to clog the hair shaft. However, you can use them while using Revita.

Can I have my hair colored or premed while using Revita?

While there is no evidence that coloring or preming hair can lead to or even worsen hair loss, it is generally not recommended for people with hair loss. If you are experiencing hair loss then preming and coloring hair is not recommended. However, they will not interfere with Revita.

Can I blow dry my hair after using Revita?

Extreme heat damages the proteins in the hairs making them fragile and liable to break off. That's why blow-drying can worsen hair loss. Nevertheless, if you need or want to blow dry your hair, you can do it after using Revita.

Who is a candidate for Revita?

Ideal candidate is someone with little hair loss or at the beginning stages of hair loss, since it is much easier to prevent hair loss than to grow new hair. Someone who is concerned with hair loss prevention should start using Revita immediately.

What type of results should I expect with Revita?

When deciding to use Revita, it is important to have realistic expectations. Depending on severity and duration of your hair loss, it could take some time to see hair growth. In fact, during the first 2 weeks of treatment you may actually notice increased hair loss as old hairs are being pushed out and the hair follicles start growing new hair. Do not become alarmed with this and just stick to the treatment.

Does Revita have any systemic side effects?

No, when used as directed. Revita active ingredients have a long history of use both orally and topically.

Does Revita work for women?

Yes. In most cases, the cause of hair loss in women is surprisingly the same as in men. Fortunately for women, estrogen helps to protect the hair follicle from the destructive effects of DHT. However, many women develop thinning hair and loss due to fluctuation of estrogen levels and/or over production of DHT. Revita can help protect the hair follicle from DHT resulting in a thicker, fuller and healthier hair.

I am using other topical treatments. Can I use Revita at the same time?

Yes. Revita has no side effects and does not cross react with other topical treatments. You can safely opt to use Revita with other products, and we strongly recommend the association with Spectral.RS, Spectral.DNC or Spectral.DNC-L.

Do I need to use Revita for a long time?

Once you have reached the desired results, you should continue to use Revita as your regular shampoo to maintain the revitalized hairs and a healthy scalp.
